

Maerua angolensis
Family: Capparaceae

Shrub or tree to 10M tall.
Scented flowers attract butterflies and insect-eating birds. Larval host to many butterflies.

The tree is easily propagated by seeds. Prepare the seeds for sowing by removing the fruit pulp.

Self seeded

