

Tinnea aethiopica
Family Lamiaceae

Shrub, 0.8m –5 m tall. Scented corolla dark reddish brown or blackish purple.

Forest underplant.

Traditionally timber is used to burn for aromatic smell, and for spear handles.

Available from Kivukoni Indigenous Tree Nursery

I do not have permission to use any Kenya photographs of Tinnea aethiopica. The Tinnea rhodesiana from Zambia looks similar, images hopefully to be replaced with the real thing.

Tinnea rhodesiana (c) Bart Wursten

Tinnea rhodesiana (c) Bart Wursten