

(c) Suzanne Bateman

Aloe massawana

Family : Asphodelaceae -Xanthorrhoeaceae

The plant is classified as ‘Vulnerable’ in the IUCN Red List of Threatened Species. It grows at low altitude near the coast.

An evergreen, succulent, perennial plant producing a rosette of leaves. The plant often produces suckers and can form small clumps.

Attracts sunbirds

(c) Suzanne Bateman