

Terminalia spinosa

Family: Combretaceae

KSW: mbarao or mwalambe

A deciduous / semi deciduous tree growing to 25 metres tall. Creamy white flowers attractive to insects. Fruits are winged oval drupes purplish red or brown

The bark and roots are used for traditional medicine and the bark used for dye and basket making.

(c) BV